

The Windsor Tie Knot Instructions

Step 1. To Tie a windsor Knot, start with the broader end hanging much further down on the right. Take the broader end in your right hand pass it to the left over the narrow end, which you are holding in your left hand.

Step 2. Pass the broader end from left to right under and around the narrow end. Then pull it over the knot and down toward your body through the loop that has been formed.

Step 3. The broader end is now hanging down on the right, wrong side facing up.

Step 4. Now take the broader end and pass it left around the half knot.

Step 5. Next, with the thick end of the necktie in your left hand, pass it up from below and behind the knot and through the loop around your neck.

Step 6. Pull the broader end forward over the half-completed knot and let it hang down.

Step 7. Next, put the tip of the broad end underneath the outer layer of the knot.

Step 8. Pull the broad end right through and carefully adjust the knot, holding it gently and pulling the narrower end.

Step 9. The broader end of the neck tie should now hang down further than the narrow end. If not, tie another knot or tuck the narrow end into your waistband.
